

Figure 1: Barycentric period of the Vela pulsar (B0833-45) before and after the glitch. The solid line represents a linear fit to the periods after the glitch. Vertical dashed lines represent the epoch of our last observation before the glitch, and the putative epoch of the glitch.